Hi there!

We're Roadtrip Nation, and in summer 2025, we want to send you across the country as part of our Explore Your Interests Roadtrip, fueled by American Student Assistance.

We're sending three young people out to meet people who followed their interests to find exciting, intriguing, and sometimes unexpected careers. On this journey around the country, you'll meet inspiring role models and mentors. Their careers and experiences will show you what's possible and help spur your own self-discovery and exploration.

As part of our public television series, we'll record it all so plenty of younger viewers will see they can achieve anything they put their mind to—and that there's a job tailored for everyone!

We'll work with participants to make sure this opportunity is accessible, including covering all travel and related costs, providing a generous stipend for personal expenses, and connecting them with six months of free personalized career coaching with InsideTrack after the experience.

Not sure what you want to do with your life? Not a problem! Meet people who know what it's like to feel lost—and find out exactly where you're supposed to be.
